JACKSON, Sept. 22.—Jackson buried 46 of the victims of the Argonaut gold mine fire disaster today. Preparations were made to continue the search for the 47th miner, William Fessel, whose body was not found by the federal mine rescue crews.

This little gold mining town suspended all activities for the funeral. Three processions, led by the town's band, moved to three cemeteries, the Roman Catholic, the Protestant and the Greek Catholic, for the services.

The Rev. Father Michael J. Kearney of St. Patrick's Church pronounced the final invocation for the dead at the Catholic cemetery. The mourners then went to the Protestant cemetery where the Rev. Edwin P. Brown, of the Methodist Episcopal Church officiated.

The last services of the day, at the Greek Catholic Chapel, were conducted by the Very Rev. George Kedjich of San Francisco. Here the flag of Yugoslavia fluttered below the stars and stripes at half mast.

ROADS OF NATION ASKED BY PRESIDENT TO SPEED UP COAL DISTRIBUTION FOR THIRTY DAYS

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The entire operating personnel of the railways of the country was called upon today by President Harding for a "concentrated drive" for 30 days to provide the transportation facilities necessary to meet the national coal emergency.

In a letter to Spence, vice president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, who was named today as federal fuel distributor under the new coal distribution and anti-profiteering act, the president declared if the enthusiastic attention the railroads could be stimulated for a month on the movement of coal and handling of empties "we could solve the coal situation not only as to ample supply, but prices would be quickly readjusted."

mine favor to some and loss to others and also because of the incompleteness of an authority which is only supplementary to state action. On the other hand I wish you to set up such agencies as will vigorously follow up individuals using facilities of interstate commerce, who are exacting extortion as defined in the act, in order that we may have relief from such practices at the earliest moment."

Arrangements for the distribution and control of anthracite prices, the president declared, have been safely established and he added, the first activities of the new fuel agency should be directed to the extension of the cooperative arrangements with the railways bituminous coal producing and consuming communities and the states authorized set up by Henry B. Spence, the federal fuel distributor.

POOL HALL OWNER HELD AS SUSPECT IN GIRLS' DEATH

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 22.—Police tonight were holding Frank Montelone, proprietor of a local pool hall in connection with the finding of the half-burned body of Rosie Ceresa yesterday in a wooded district near North Kansas City. Montelone was arrested today following an anonymous telephone call to the police by a woman who stated that Montelone had been living with the girl. He identified the body last night and according to officials, stated that he knew who the slayer was, but refused to tell whom he suspected.

Montelone admitted, police said, that he had been paying the girl's living expenses and rent on quarters occupied by her near his pool hall. He declared he had been the girl's suitor before his marriage in January. When asked why he continued supporting her he said he "felt sorry for her." Police said that Rosie was about to become a mother.

TEX. DEMOCRATS ASKED TO DONATE $50,000 TO FIGHT

CONTRIBUTIONS WILL BE USED ONLY IN DOUBTFUL STATES

Special to The News
DALLAS, Sept. 22.—Money contributed by the Democrats of Texas for the national campaign will be expended by the Democratic national committee solely in doubtful states. It was announced here today by John C. Harris, chairman, with Miss Margie E. Neal of Carthage, of the Texas finance committee.

Mr. Harris' announcement was made following receipt of a telegram from Cordell Hull, Democratic national chairman.

The question was raised here Tuesday at a conference of senatorial district chairmen, when organization was completed to conduct a three weeks' campaign to raise $50,000 in Texas. Two years ago Texas contributed $2,000 to the national campaign and though the assessment has been materially reduced this year the need for funds is acute in those states where the Democrats have an excellent chance to win in the November elections. The telegram from Chairman Hull released by Mr. Harris follows:

"I deeply appreciate the action of the Democratic national finance committee for Texas upon its organization for the work of raising funds among the Democratic men and women of your state to defray the expenses of the Democratic national committee in the pending campaign to elect a Democratic congress. All funds contributed in your state will be used solely for the purpose of defraying publicity and other legitimate campaign expenses in doubtful states of the north and east and west and middle west where our needs are most pressing and our opportunities inviting. I wish you the greatest success and promise you that we will make every penny bring the greatest possible results."

Mr. Harris has sent out an appeal to district and county chairmen urging them to solicit popular subscriptions of from $1 to $5 in their districts. Heretofore many contributions have been for larger sums but it is expected this year to call a larger number of smaller contributions. $4,000, should be made to Mr. Harris at room 319 West 10th street, Dallas.

AUSTIN, Sept. 22.—Legality of all nominations of the Republican state committee is said to be involved in one of the questions which it became known tonight was submitted to the attorney general's department by Secretary of State R. BRITAIN IS WEAKENING ON DEMANDS FOR GREECE

By Associated Press
LONDON, Sept. 22.—The question of peace or war in the Near East seems to turn tonight first upon whether the question of the future status of Thrace can be kept separate and distinct from the question of neutrality and freedom of the Dardanelles, and second, whether the guns begin to speak before the negotiations between the allied representatives in Paris have ended.

While there is not the slightest diminution in the announced determination of the British government to uphold the neutrality of the straits of the Dardanelles, a very significant semi-official statement issued this afternoon seems to indicate some modification of the British policy and its attitude toward Greece in Thrace, which it may be assumed is the outcome of the Paris negotiations, in which Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, participated.

This statement declared Great Britain was seeking nothing for herself, but that she would insist on neutralization of the Dardanelles and free passage of the waterway under the League of Nations or some other international organization.

One of the strongest charges made against Premier Lloyd George's Near Eastern policy, especially by the labor party has been its pro-Greek character. The labor party announced that it was unwilling to engage the nation in a for the fulfillment of Greek ambitions.

According to Constantinople dispatches received here, Kemal Pasha, the Turkish nationalist leader, demands within 48 hours guarantees for conferences; but he finally consented to forward the plan to London tonight. At first, Lord Curzon opposed even tentative approval of the Turkish demands before all the invited powers discussed them around the peace table, but the insistence of M. Poincare, the French premier, won him over to the extent of accepting them contingent on their full endorsement by the British cabinet.

M. Poincare favored out and out approval of all the Kemalist demands, but it is realized in French government circles that the best that can be hoped for is limited acceptance by Great Britain.

The general scheme for peace would contain the following points:

Constantinople, Adrianople and Eastern Thrace, up to the River Maritsa, would be handed back to Turkey, subject to acceptance of a broad zone along the Thracian, Bulgarian, and Greek frontiers.

Internationalization of the straits of the Dardanelles under the League of Nations or some other international body.

Maintenance of a permanent allied military force at Gallipoli.

Right treaty clauses insuring the protection of the minorities in Turkey.

It is probable the British force at Chanak would remain there until a peace treaty is signed between Turkey and Greece. The British also would further limit the size of the Turkish force in Eastern Thrace to insure peace to that part of Europe.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—With completion of its inquiry planned tomorrow, when thirty additional indictments are expected to be returned, the grand jury investigating the killing of 22 persons at the strip mine of the Southern Illinois Coal Company, near here last June 21 and 22, tonight had finished questioning witnesses and was preparing its report.

The grand jury this afternoon had planned to recess tonight, but delay in preparation of the findings of the body caused the recess to be deferred until after the jury delivers the final report in the case, which has been set to begin when the jury convenes at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

The report, it is said, will review the circumstances leading up to the strike and to the following deaths which occurred when the mine was reopened with non-union labor during the nationwide strike of coal miners.

PRESIDENT EXPECTED TO ISSUE CALL NOVEMBER 15

By Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Congress adjourned sine die today with leaders generally expecting a call from President Harding for a special session November 15, preceding the regular December session.

PRESIDENT EXPECTED TO ISSUE CALL NOVEMBER 15

The President was in attendance today for a few minutes before the final gavel dropped, to sign the usual short of eleven-hour bills. The only important measure to get through on the last day was the deficiency appropriation bill.

After disposing of the deficiency appropriation bill the Senate passed a number of minor measures and listened to a few set speeches, while House members made one minute addresses, mostly for publication during the next few days in the congressional record and heard Representative Blanton, Democrat, Texas, defend Attorney General Daugherty and criticize Republicans for alleged neglect in that respect.

Speaker Gillette after a brief speech banded the House adjournment gavel promptly at 2 o'clock. The Senate adjourned two or three minutes later having to stop the clock briefly while necessary bills were signed for submission to President Harding waiting in his room of the Senate chamber.

Statistical sharks tonight were busy calculating the work of the session, prominent in which was the enactment of the tariff law and passage of the soldiers' bonus bill with its death after the president's veto. About 300 laws were said to have been enacted out of 3408 bills and 258 resolutions introduced in the House and 1249 bills and about 280 resolutions in the Senate.

Appropriations of the session aggregated over $2,550,000,000 and with authorizations $2,761,917,000 was made available for the government's fiscal year needs. About 8,000 nominations were sent to the Senate by President Harding which were confirmed with but few exceptions.
